The London Times upon the United States.

The following is the article from the London Times alluded to in the telegraphic despatches a few days since,—in which the filibustering movements from the United States are so savagely commented upon, and an affected fear expressed of a descent upon Ireland. That neither the Times nor the British Government have any real apprehension of such an absurd attempt, we are fully persuaded. The ... [illegible] ... in regard to American ... in Central America—and the strengthening of the British fleet on our coast at this very moment when the Clayton Bulwer Treaty of non-intervention is rejected by this government itself,—to say the least a suspicious circumstance, will ... account for the sudden bullying of the Times.

[From the London Times.]

AMERICAN FILIBUSTERING.

The English Government ... omitting no opportunity of ... the ... East India squadron, and thus ... [illegible] ... between this country and the North American Continent. This proceeding will we doubt not, call forth from a large portion of the American press that species of ... and ... deliberate ... which ... over the conduct of England ... question, and a little political capital is to be manufactured by making her the object of invective and the pretext ... We shall be told, no doubt, of the ... hatred of England to republican America, and of the ... behind which she veils her ... and ... designs. Without the slightest wish to reflect in any way upon the press which allows itself to be made the vehicle of such statements, or upon the circumstances which ... are found to be influenced by such calumnies, we wish to point out to the good sense and moderation of the American people the causes which have led us, even in a time of war, to ... our squadron in these seas and may possibly lead us still further in a direction, the first steps towards which we ... now ... taking.

We cannot, then, the American public to believe, notwithstanding the assertions to the contrary with which they are so assiduously plied, that there is no party ... [illegible] ... this country that regards them with any other feeling ... of the most good will or would wish for them any other fate than the enjoyment of the utmost possible freedom which is consistent with the most private liberty and security. We have neither the wish nor the right to intrude our opinion on that form of government which has been established in the United States, but we have and we claim the right to take every reasonable precaution against that which ... the present government of the United States ... to create.

At this present moment North America is in profound peace with the whole world, yet it is not the less a fact that in her ports are fitting out ... expeditions ... destined to carry war and bloodshed into the dominions of ... neighbor ... [illegible] ... well known to the President and his advisers ... [illegible] ... to put down ... [illegible]

[illegible] ... We cannot ... [illegible] ... punishment ... the ... Americans ... And ... [illegible] ... probable or even possible ... is that the ... wretched adventurers ... inflaming the public mind against England, and stirring up the passions of the people to a point which might render war inevitable. The consummation ... duty of the American Government, if it can, to prevent, and, if it cannot, of the Government against which such attempts are aimed to use means to avert. If we can prevent these expeditions from sailing, or intercept them in mid ocean, we shall have done much towards averting the danger that must arise should they be carried out to their natural development. The course of action we have adopted is, we think, a very wise one and we believe it the prudent and safe.

We are fully aware of the advantage that such a proceeding gives to those ever active emissaries of discord, who are incessantly employed in every State of the Union in stirring up the feelings of the populace against this country. That which is a mere measure of self-defence against ... they will distort, they will exaggerate, but we must not omit to prepare against real dangers, because our preparations may be honestly misunderstood or designedly misrepresented. England has every wish and every interest to remain at peace with America. The immense trade which we carry on with her, the community of language and of blood, the absence of any ground of dispute or subject of rivalry, all plead forcibly in the same direction. How strange, that an ... such ...

... merely because it is ... the sovereign people ... unprovoked and unarrested ... by the Government ... [illegible] ... the ... of the ... United States ... force ... upon ... [illegible]

But for the credit of those free institutions ... and ... the face of the earth, that a friendly ... and kindred nation, ardently desiring peace, should feel itself compelled to stand on the defensive, not because that Government is unwilling or unable to prevent its citizens from going forth to murder and to plunder an unoffending ally. Are these the ... with which the tree of freedom ought to be adorned? Are these the laurels with which the temples of the goddess should be crowned? England ... home claims to be called the ... mother of freedom, and her citizens are free, because they know how ... how to subordinate their individual wills to that ... the supremacy of which constitutes the principal distinction of a civilized community.

MORE FLOUR FROM MONTREAL.—The second lot of flour from Montreal direct to this city, was brought through last week to Messrs. Dillingham & Smith, and consisted of 300 barrels.

The third lot embracing 720 barrels, came through yesterday being purchased in Montreal by Messrs. Butler and Gould of Portland. It will probably be sold to some of our dealers to day.

A RAILROAD TRAIN BLOWN OFF THE TRACK.—On Monday night, the 12th inst., an express train on the Harlem Railroad, when near Four Corners, was struck by a whirlwind and all the cars thrown off the track and upset. They were terribly shattered, and several passengers severely injured—one, Mr. Rathbone, a manufacturer at Chatham, being killed. The brakeman of the train, finding that it was ..., endeavored to jump off against the wind, but it was so strong that he was blown with the car among the fragments.

It seems that the successes of the K. N's in the Southern States are by no means so extensive as first represented by the telegraphic despatches. In Louisiana, the democrats have probably prevailed, and in Mississippi they have a large majority. In Maryland, also, which was reported to have elected nearly all K. N's to Congress, it is now said that the democrats will get nearly half.

We regret to see it stated that Hon. Timothy Boutelle of Waterville, died on Monday evening. The event was not unexpected, as our ... illness, had been previously announced. Mr B. had attained to the advanced age of ... and throughout his long life was foremost in aiding every good enterprise for the benefit of the State and the section where he lived.

Denton H. Moore, a planter near Mt. Pleasant, Tennessee, being intoxicated, shot at his daughter with a revolver, and then shot his son dead because he interfered. The wretched man then opened the arteries of his arms, but was dragged from his concealment, and saved for the gallows. No cause for this ... exception.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS. We were yesterday shown a bill purporting to be a ten dollar bill on the Skowhegan Bank, which bore unmistakable evidence of having been altered from a one. It may be detected by noticing, particularly, the prominent word ten and the letter S in dollars, which are clumsily altered.

The attention of our readers is called to Hatch & McKenney's advertisement of second invoice of Needles of their own importation. The ladies who are the only competent judges in such matters are decidedly in their favor.

IMPORTANT TO THE SHIPPING INTEREST.—The important fact is mentioned in a letter from Paris, in the National Intelligencer, that the French government have authorized the purchase by their subjects of foreign vessels, for the purpose of placing them under the French flag, and to enjoy all the attending privileges of national built vessels. The writer says:—

"The government has promulgated a decree which will have an important and highly advantageous effect upon our tonnage interest:—This decree allows foreign built vessels to be naturalized, and to take the French flag, with ... advantages on the payment of 10 per cent. on their assessed value. It will be a great opening for American vessels of 600 to 800 tons, and more especially for steamers of 1000 to 1200 tons which will be in great demand, and will meet with a ready sale. They have also admitted timber, lumber, naval stores, &c free of duty for the ensuing three years. This will open a great market for all these articles and ... give profitable employment ... to our ..."

Homes, or the Poor!

The Report of our City Missionary which appeared in yesterday's issue of the Whig, reminds us of the annual appeal to our generosity, our mercy, our pity. It is hoped and believed, notwithstanding any business embarrassments that may weigh heavily on our community, that the contributions in our Churches on the next Sabbath, will show no abatement of interest in the line of beneficence, and give no indication that any outward pressure is likely to close the open hand of melting charity.

The appropriate ... is the time for making this appeal, and this effort, is obvious enough. On the eve of that Thanksgiving Festival when our boards are groaning with plenty, and our hearts take a special license for joy, it is meet and christian to remember those whose spirits are darkened with the shadow of poverty, and who have to toil hard for their daily bread.—At the threshold of a long and vigorous winter, how proper that they who rejoice in comfortable homes, should remember the families, who look forward to the season with dread, and who without aid will have to shiver through its short days, and its long, bitter nights. Let those therefore who have confidence in our City Missionary for which there is every reason make him the almoner to the poor, of their bounty. They are ... and will promote better both their own benevolence and joy and the furtherance of the general cause, who, not satisfied to do the blessed work of beneficence by proxy, themselves engage personally in the explorations of charity, and administer with their own hands to the wants of the needy. This is said, not to lessen in the smallest degree the means placed at the disposal of the City Missionary, but to encourage individual co-ordinate exertions. In all ways, and by all means, let us demonstrate the fact of a universal brotherhood. Let us be ambitious also to bring ourselves into a close fellowship with that Being, who though so infinitely exalted, is kind, even to the unthankful, and within the embrace of the sweet beatitudes of the Gospel.

"I have shewed you all things, how that so laboring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'" G E L.

THE "PILGRIM" SHIP.—After referring to the subscription of five or six thousand dollars in Bath, the Portland Argus says:—"This is a noble work of the public spirited and philanthropic citizens of our sister city. We hope the solid men of Portland will not be behind their neighbors. We believe they will not be. There never was presented to our humble opinion, a definite object for benevolent effort, so easy of accomplishment, that would be productive of so wide spreading and far-reaching results, as will be the building of this ship, for developing the commerce, and facilitating intercourse with the sister republic of Liberia."

HORRIBLE.—The New York Times has a letter from J. ... Green, the "Reformed Gambler," relative to the alarming progress of the vice of gambling in New Haven and other large towns in New England. We give the following extract, to show the hardening influence of this vice upon the minds of its votaries:

For several years New Haven has sustained a number of professional gamblers, and from one to four gaming rooms, besides three or four lottery and policy offices. During a two years residence in the city, I ... in a position ... which ... was ... the constant receipt of information touching the gambling habits of those who were addicted to the practice, while some of the gambling-house scenes, as described by those who witnessed them, were as startling as any I had ever seen enacted among the hardened desperadoes of the South west.

During the execution of the murderers, Foote and McCaffray in the yard of the New Haven jail, a faro bank was in full operation in a house adjoining the yard, and so near, that when the fatal drop fell, the noise was distinctly heard by the players, who were so intent upon their game, that they gave no other heed to the horrid ... than to turn them into ridicule. The room was filled with gamblers, and the table covered with money, ... the drop fell, one of the players exclaimed, "There goes old Foote, I wonder what he'd give to have a dollar on the ace?" "I'll bet you ... he'll live," said another. ... heard his neck crack," said a third, "And I'll bet he dies before this deal is out." Then a man striking his fist on the table, damned his soul and ... if the rope was round his neck, ... he had done nothing but lose all day. "You'll get your wish soon enough old fellow," said the dealer. "Foote used to think I was in bad luck when he lost a few dollars, but the Sheriff is dealing him a game to day that will beat him to death." A general laugh ... announced the appreciation of this intended witticism, and thus ... they gambled and reveled at the very foot of the gallows.

WASHINGTON RUMORS. New York, Nov 17. The Washington Correspondent of Daily Times says the Administration has not the slightest evidence that the British fleet is intended to menace us on any ground, and that all the statements in relation to harsh correspondence regarding the Central American question are positively false, no demand having been made for British acquiescence in our construction of the Bulwer-Clayton treaty. He also says that the sloop of war Saratoga, which sailed from this port yesterday, is bound to Port au Prince, to bring the crew of the bark de Ameha recently seized there by the American Consul, to New York for trial, on the charge of infraction of the revenue laws.

The Washington Correspondent of the Tribune says the Secretary of the Navy has ordered a ship of the Pacific squadron to proceed at once to the newly-discovered Island in the Pacific to protect an American shipmaster, who is the discoverer of the Island, which is said to contain an immense quantity of guano.

THE COAL TRADE.—The quantity sent forward this week is 55,791 tons. The shipments have fallen off a little and will continue to decline for the balance of the season. The quantity sent by railroad this year so far exceeds 2,000,000 tons, and the shipments exceed 3,000,000 from the country. The increase this year from Schuylkill county will exceed 400,000 tons, which is a heavy increase in one year, considering the state of the trade. The whole supply of anthracite coal this year from the different regions will reach 6,000,000 tons; the increase of anthracite this year will be in the neighborhood of 700,000 tons over the supply of last year. The trade remains without any change, and the operators are preparing to go into winter quarters as rapidly as possible,—in fact the lower the better, as coal does not ... pay the cost of production except in favored localities.—Pottsville Journal.

The American Council.

The State Council of the American party of this commonwealth held its quarterly session in the City Hall, at Worcester, yesterday.—There were about 250 delegates present, representing 1001 councils, a larger number, taking into consideration the heavy rain storm of the night previous. The Council was called to order by J. B. Farwell, Esq., of Boston, Vice President, and the session opened with an appropriate and impressive prayer by Rev. Mark Trafton, of Westfield. The letter of resignation of Hon. John W. Foster, of the presidency of the Council, which has been published, and a communication from Hon. Simon Brown, of Concord, resigning the office of State Treasurer, was laid before the Council, and both resignations accepted. Hon. George Odiorne, of Boston, called the attention of the Council to the question whether or not it would be the duty of this Council to select delegates to a Convention of the American party, to be held at Cincinnati on the 30th of November. The call for the Convention was read by the Secretary, Hon. E. C. Baker. This call is signed by the committee appointed by the seceding Northern delegates from the Philadelphia National Convention, among whom is his Excellency Gov. Gardner, in behalf of Massachusetts.

Hon. C. R. Ransom moved that a committee be appointed to nominate to this Council a list of one delegate from each congressional district, and two at large, to represent the American Council of Massachusetts in the Convention at Cincinnati.

Hon. Daniel Warren, of Boston, moved the indefinite postponement of the whole question. Upon this motion a full and friendly discussion took place on the question whether it was for the best interests of the American party of Massachusetts to take any part or lot in the Cincinnati movement.

His Excellency Gov. Gardner stated that he had signed the call in consultation with some of his associate delegates, and had received a letter from Gov. Johnston of Pennsylvania stating that the American party of the State would send delegates to the Cincinnati Convention. Alderman B. F. Cooke, of Boston, and Hon. Daniel Warren, of Boston, opposed the sending of delegates as an unwise act, as they believed the Cincinnati Convention was got up for the purpose of once more attempting to make the American party a ... party. All the speakers were ready to abide by the Springfield platform, as containing just the planks on the Native American and Anti-slavery ones upon which the whole American party of Massachusetts can stand upon.

The motion to indefinitely postpone was lost, and that to appoint a committee carried—which committee reported the following list of delegates:

RAILROADS vs. RIVERS.—The New Orleans Delta takes up the annual statements of the commerce of New Orleans for the years 1853 '54, '55, and shows by incontestible evidence that the exports for the year ending June 30 1853 amounted to $98,988,155; for 1854, to $93,936,729; for 1855 to $82,382,101; a decrease in two years of sixteen millions of dollars. The cause of this diminution in the export trade, is very justly attributed to the railroads constructed by Northern, Eastern and Western enterprise, which have tapped tributaries of the Mississippi within the last two years and a half, and transferred to their own routes the produce and freight which used to find its natural entrepot in New Orleans.

BREADSTUFFS.—The market for breadstuffs on this side of the water is said to be much above the advanced prices ruling at Liverpool and London. The French can now buy cheaper there than here. The New York Post says that the shipments now making are at one to two dollars per barrel—including charges—more for flour than in Liverpool, and this fact renders bills drawn against them unsafe. Speculation has been carried too far. The advance in the foreign markets has been more than an ... long ago and as the daily supplies in the New York market have much increased of late prices are declining. We note another decline in flour and grain in the market, and the tendency is downward.—Boston Times.

The population of the Croix Rousse at Lyons, assembled at the grand place, a short time since, for the annual fete, were astonished to see a huge lion which had escaped from a travelling menagerie, advance ... towards them. They fled in every direction, but the lion taking no notice, continued to promenade to a place called Les Tapis and then suddenly leaped upon a poor donkey, which was tied to a post, and with one grip of his teeth, killed him. The king of the forest then calmly placed himself upon the ground near his victim, and after a while allowed himself to be conveyed back to the menagerie by his keepers.

We understand that Hon. A. Pilsbury has sold his Estate, on the corner of Court and Marshfield streets to Cofiin Smith of Northfield. Mr. P. will leave in a few days for Halifax, N. S., having recently been appointed by President Pierce, Consul at that place. We have no doubt but that he carries the good wishes of his old friends and townsmen with him to his new place of residence.—Machias Union.

TO DRESS POULTRY.—When the weather is very cold, cut out and make each fowl a jacket and trousers. Put them on, and your poultry will be dressed.

TO CURE HAMS.—First ascertain what is the matter with them. Then apply the proper remedy, and if you do not succeed in curing them, it isn't your fault.

Meeting a negro on the road, a traveller said—"You have lost some of your friends, I see."

"Yes, massa."

"Was it a distant relative?"

"Well, pretty distant—'bout twenty-four miles," was the reply.

Inhalation in Consumption.

To the editor of the Boston Olive Branch.

DEAR SIR—Permit me through the columns of your valuable paper, to offer a few remarks illustrative of the beneficial and successful results of medicated inhalation in the treatment of consumption.

In the early part of the month of March last, I had a very severe and distressing cough of several years standing. I expectorated daily a large amount of greenish yellow colored matter, occasionally streaked with blood. I had a severe pain and a sense of weight or oppression in my right lung which was very much aggravated on lying down, so that I got but little rest at night. I suffered greatly from shortness of breath on walking fast or on making the slightest exertion. My strength gradually failed me, and I became very feeble indeed, and much emaciated, followed with night sweats. I was also afflicted with a catarrhal affection which had almost entirely destroyed the sensation of smell, my nostrils being so much obstructed as to breathe with difficulty through the nose.

Now, under these circumstances, having tried almost every thing that promised any relief, and receiving but little, if any, encouragement from my physicians at home, I was induced as a last and dernier resort, through the advice of a friend to consult Dr. DILLENBACK, of 69½ Summer street, Boston, and after a careful and thorough examination of my lungs, the Doctor pronounced them to be in a state of ulceration, the right lung having a considerable cavity. This opinion fully confirmed my own apprehension, for I could distinctly hear the rattling in the upper part of my lungs at almost every breath.

This was my condition as nearly as I can describe it, when I commenced the treatment under Dr. Dillenback, of inhaling or breathing ... medicated vapor. The effect of this treatment from the first was truly surprising, the soothing and agreeable effects of the vapor gave me almost instant relief—my cough, gradually subsiding, the expectoration becoming free and easy, while my breathing improved, and the pain and oppression of the chest left me. In a few days from the commencement of this treatment, I was able to lie down and sleep comfortably all night. I commenced my treatment by inhaling about two teaspoonful of the vapor from a fine sponge placed in a small glass globe, to which is attached a tube and mouth piece. I was directed to inhale four or five times during the day, and to continue each time to ten minutes each time. In addition to this with a view to reach my catarrhal difficulty, the doctor showered my nasal passage with a small silver syringe adapted to that purpose. By this means my catarrhal difficulty has been so much relieved that I can now smell and breathe through my nose, my cough has left me, and my health and strength have proportionally improved. And believing that I owe to inhalation, as employed by Dr. Dillenback, not only my present good health, but in all probability my life itself, I could no longer remain silent, nor refrain from bringing before the public a knowledge of these facts, in the hope that others similarly situated, by a timely resort to this treatment, may experience the same delight and happy effects.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

HIRAM BLISS
